

ANTALL JÓZSEF
SUMMER SCHOOL

CALL FOR APPLICATION

Organised by the Antall József Knowledge Centre, the Antall József Summer School is a two-week educational programme examining Central Europe and its wider neighbourhood.

The 2019 event will revolve around the role of the Visegrad Countries in regional partnerships, such as the European Union, NATO, and the OSCE. Given the fact that 2019 marks the fifteenth anniversary of the V4 joining the EU and the 70th anniversary of signing the treaty that created NATO, the V4 are presented with the perfect opportunity to think about, rethink, and discuss their role played in such partnerships.

In addition to the educational programme, the Summer School also provides an avenue to learn more about the Central European culture and values, and other participants' cultural heritage. For this purpose, museum visits, study trips, and other informal activities are also organised.

Who can apply?

Young professionals aged 23-35 who are interested in Central European Studies, the Visegrad Cooperation, and the region in general; studying in the field of social sciences, humanities, economics, and legal studies; and interested in international relations, political science, security studies, regional studies, economics

What will I need for application?

- an up-to-date CV (one page, in PDF)
- a reference letter (signed, in PDF)
- a proof of English proficiency (language exam certificate (C1/advanced) or diploma, in PDF)
- and the online application form submitted through our website

The deadline to submit your application through our website is 21 April 2019, midnight CET.

● Place and Time of AJSS 2019: Budapest, 1-11 July

Submit your application and explore Central Europe from new perspectives!

For more information on the application process and the scholarships granted, please visit www.ajsummerschool.com